

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, July 19. 1720.

Petersbourg, June 29.

THE Court has for some time past continued at Cronslot, where were also the Palatine of Mazovia and other Foreign Ministers. On the 21st Instant the Czar caused all his Men of War and other Shipping lying in that Harbour to be shewn to the said Ambassadour and the other Foreign Ministers, who were afterwards magnificently entertained by the Czar in his new Palace built near the Harbour. On the 22d Admiral General Count Apraxin, entertained their Czarish Majesties with the chief Nobility and the foreign Ministers on board the Hangor, a new Man of War of 90 Guns, finely built and sumptuously fitted up. During the Entertainment the Swedish Adjutant-General Merks arrived at Cronslot going from hence by Land and by Order of the Czar he was conducted to see all the Houses of his Czarish Majesty and the Nobility built on the Sea Side. After Dinner the Company went on board the Lesno Man of War likewise of 90 Guns, which the Czar commands himself as Vice-Admiral, where a Collation was prepared for them, during which the Guns were fired at every Health that went round. On the 24th the Polish Ambassadour was shewn the new Canal which is making in the Island of Cotlin for the refitting of Ships; at the same Time the Swedish Adjutant General was conducted to view all the Men of War and Gallies lying in that Harbour, and on the 25th he had a private Audience of the Czar, in which he received Answers to the Letters he brought from the King and Queen of Sweden to his Czarish Majesty, notifying his Swedish Majesty's Accession to the Crown, after which Audience he embarked on board a Brigantine which was to carry him to Abo. The Czar and Czarina went on the 26th to Petershof, accompanied by the Polish Ambassadour, who after having viewed the great Gardens which the Czar has begun there, returned hither on the 27th, where the other Foreign Ministers are also arrived: But their Czarish Majesties are still at Peterhof.

Warsaw, July 5. The Resolution which has been returned in Writing by the Czar to the Demands of this Republick's Ambassadour, contains in Substance; That his Czarish Majesty can give no positive Answer as to the restoring of Livonia and Courland, so long as the War goes on against Sweden; that in the mean time he has given Orders for protecting the Inhabitants of Courland from any ill Usage, and for leaving to the States of the said Dutchy the Administration of the Government, in hopes that the King and Republick of Poland will oblige Duke Ferdinand to let the Dutchess Dowager enjoy her Dowry; that no more than 4 Companies of Russians shall remain in the Dutchy, to serve for a Guard to the Dutchess, pursuant to the Treaty of her Marriage; that whereas the Republick have not performed the 8th Article of their Treaty with the Czar, pursuant to which they were obliged to maintain 48000 Men during the War against Sweden, his Czarish Majesty does not think himself under any Obligation of paying the Arrears of Supplies insisted on; but that however he is willing to restore the Artillery, and release the Polish Prisoners, on Condition that they never carry Arms against him.

Stockholm, July 9. The King, accompanied by his Brother Prince William of Hesse, is gone to the Dahlers, where the Fleets lie at Anchor, to assist at a great Council of War, and his Majesty is expected here To-morrow. All things are getting ready for a Transport, and the Forces to be embarked are above 23000 Men. Several Bridges of a new Invention are to be employed in the intended Expedition, for the speedy landing of a great Number of Men in a little Time. In the mean while we have a Report, that there is great Hope of a Peace with the Czar.

Paris, July 24. The Actions which for these three Days past were at a Stand, are all on a sudden risen to 5700, on occasion of two Arrêts which have been published.

The first of those Arrêts is dated the 21st Instant, whereby the King gives again to the India Company the 18 Millions of Annuities, which they had returned to his Majesty, who accepted them on certain Conditions by the Arrêt of the 20th of June last: His Majesty judging that the returning of the said 18 Millions is become useless by the Creation of 25 Millions of Annuities established by the Edict of June last; and that besides it is just that the 600 Millions which the Company have engaged to call in, should produce to the Actionists a Benefit which might contribute to the making of Repartitions and Dividends; therefore he gives again to them the said 18 Millions, to enjoy them as they did before they had returned them, on Condition however, that according to their Offer they call in 600 Millions in Bank Bills and Receipts, according to the Form and Manner contained in the Edict of this present Month. (This is the Edict which the Parliament refused to register, and for this Reason does not yet appear in Print.)

The other Arrêt is dated the 22d Instant, and entituled, Arrêt of the King's Council of State in Favour of the India Company, setting forth, That whereas disaffected Persons give out, that the Duties, Revenues, and Administrations, formerly assigned to the said Company, are now taken from them, and that such Enquiries are making as are directly contrary to their Establishment, and to the Preservation of their Credit: Therefore his Majesty first declares, that he confirms the said Company in the Administration of the General Farm of Tobacco, of the Mint, and in the Lease of the General Farms; and then permits to buy, sell, and negotiate the Actions of the said Company as Merchandise, without being liable to any Enquiries or Imposition of Taxes on account of Profits made or to be made on occasion of the said Actions.
